

Back to work, Back to team

How supervisors and co-workers support return to work following injury

Team support makes a positive difference

93% of employees who strongly agreed their employer supported them were back at work¹

Need more information or support?

Supervisors:

- > The rehabilitation case manager is there to guide and advise you
- > Comcare training: A supervisor's role in early intervention and rehabilitation
- > Check out Comcare's Return to work: Easy Reference Guide publication at www.comcare.gov.au

Co-workers:

- > Your supervisor can help with questions you have on the return to work process and any suggestions you have to support your team member